to be assumed by them are now discharged at a cost of $30,000 per annum, and in a shiftless and amanifactory way.

The present inequality of taxation for school purposes is referred to; and the Superintendent recommends present plan, the two mints ax as now consecu-and paid over to the Antitior by whom it is slin-tributed among the counties in the following manner—one-third in proportion to the sees of each, and two-thirds in proportion to the popu-lation. Many counties by this bungling method are paying much more than they get back. The county of Cook, for instance, with her very heavy population, has an area no larger than heavy population, has an area no larger than the county or Wayne; but under the plan of distribution now in force, sie really gets less of the one-third of the aggregate tax, distributed territorially than her Southern neighbor. In fact territorially, than her Southern neighbor. In het, Cook pays annually at least $40,000 more than the receives. And so of all the other populous counties; they are bearing the burdens while the thinly settled portions of the State are reaging the burdens. Mr. Bitwards recommends that the proceeds of this two sells.

thinly settled portions of the State are reaging the benefits. Mr. Edwards recommends that the proceeds of this two mills have be paid over directly to the treasurer of the township in which it is collected, and that if he expended there and no where else; thereby cutting off the expenses and commissions arising from present handling and coulty iransportation of the money. This recommendation has such simplicity and fairness, that I do not well see how it can be rejected. It will be opposed arongly by those members from counties now paying little and getting much; but the justice of the proposed reform cannot be disputed.

It has been desided to-day by resolution that the twe Houses would wait upon the Governor elset at the Executive Massion, on Monday next, at 2 o'clock, r. w., and witness, becoming of his imaggaration. It has been the following the take the official oath in the Representatives' Hall; but the peculiar circumstances of the present case make the course now resolved upon, most expedient. I am glad to say that the resolution was arried without certoes opportion on the part of without certoes opportion on the part of

I Pair of Twins.

Amid the various prominent objects of public interest, to which Gov. Mayrasos calls our attention in his last message, his notice of the sities of Chicago and Cairo is worth a little consideration. The rapid growth, the increasing wealth, the ewelling future of those two lows, are placed side by side in the Message, and according to Gov. Marrmox, such is the strong family likeness, that they must be looked upon as twin children of the same parentage; so like in feature and form, that it is very much cast of with a shilling. cast of with a saining.

Cairo is also a very promising child; but has grown as rapidly, having doubled his size within a year, that the Governor suspects there may be some "magical influences" in it. Cairo is, however, most respectably connected, both with the Northern Lakes and the Gulf of Mexica; and the intimacy of his relations with Southern Hirols, will some day, the Governor thinks, lithrous, with some day, the Governor times, give him a position of even greater wealth god respectability. The Governor makes no allessom to the reports once so rife, that the healthy growth and even life of the young Cairo, bad is now unnecessary to mention the fact. F which the Message gives us, that to all that re-gion now, "like a minbeam in the shades of the Impraing, the Railroads have unclosed it nee mortaing, the American assect uncome a new a new and brilliant existence!"

Hitools, like the mother of the Gracchi points to Chicago and Cairo, as her jewels; and the Gevernor reminds her of the respons-bility resting upon her, to see to it, that they lef her not neglect all proper nurture and a monition in their young and tender years. The Message of the Governor of Penseylvania represents the flounces of that State as in a favorable condition. The revenue for the next year is estimated as likely to greed the ordinary expenses by a million and a half of delbars. With a tiberal allowance for extraordinary expenses, this would leave a million to be applied to the extinguishment of the debt, which now amounts to a little over forty millions. The annual increase of revenue ought to meet any reasonable increase of expenses, leaving at EAL LACES.
